

KLTHAM BELSELAH

The talented Emirati visual artist, Kaltham Belselah, adeptly weaves traditional elements into her paintings, garnering recognition and admiration for her work. Her artistic mission centers on fortifying and preserving ancestral heritage for future generations. Kaltham's artistic journey began in her youth when she discovered a talent for drawing fueled by her passion for colors and the natural world. Despite facing resource constraints, she embarked on creating paintings that captured the essence of the Emirati landscape. While unable to pursue a fine arts degree locally, she opted for studies in financial management and marketing, simultaneously continuing to refine her artistic abilities through various training courses. Subsequently, she pursued a master's degree in fine arts at a prestigious university in Los Angeles, USA. Characterized by their realism and deep-seated Emirati identity, Kaltham's artworks serve as a testament to her artistic vision. She harbors ambitions of attaining a doctoral degree, representing the UAE internationally through art exhibitions, and using her creations to showcase the nation's identity.
